Cost-effective Fiber Optic Splice 24-core

Overview

Cost-Effective: The 24 core hat-type optical cable joint is a cost-effective option for connecting and splicing fiber optic cables. It is durable and requires minimal maintenance, which helps to reduce the overall cost of ownership. These joints allow for the connection and splicing of fiber optic cables, protecting the fibers from environmental factors such as moisture, dust, and. A 24 core fiber optic splice closure is a specialized enclosure designed to house and protect spliced fiber optic cables. It is equipped with the capacity to accommodate up to 24 individual fiber strands, allowing for efficient and organized cable management. Durable, waterproof, and suitable for various applications. Perfect for FTTH and FTTX networks. For most commercial projects, expect to pay $50–$150 per fusion splice point - but that number can swing in either direction based on the factors below.
