Dustproof and explosion-proof lighting distribution box factory

Overview

Explosion Proof distribution box An explosion-proof distribution box is a complete distribution unit designed to house switches, instruments and other equi.

Key Takeaways

Leading manufacturers of dustproof and explosion-proof lighting distribution boxes include Warom Technology, CNKC Electric, Hualong Electric, and YXFB, offering certified, durable, and customizable solutions for hazardous environments.

Key Manufacturers and Products

Warom Technology specializes in explosion-proof illumination distribution boxes designed for industrial lighting automation, hazardous electrical systems, nuclear illumination, and defense applications. Their products feature a compound design combining flameproof (Ex d) and increased safety (Ex e) chambers, anti-static coatings, anti-loosening fasteners, and color-coded operating panels for safe and easy operation.

C Electric manufactures the BXM (D) explosion-proof lighting distribution box, a low-voltage device integrating switchgear, measuring instruments, protective appliances, and auxiliary equipment. These boxes support 220/380V voltage and 60–250A current, with manual or automatic switching and alarm functions for abnormal operation, ensuring reliable performance in hazardous environments. Hualong Electric (Jiangsu) produces LED explosion-proof lamps, all-plastic explosion-proof and anti-corrosion lamps, and explosion-proof distribution boxes.

Their products comply with GB3836-2000 standards, hold national explosion-proof production licenses, and are ISO9001 certified. Plastic enclosures offer excellent corrosion resistance, lightweight design, and long-term stability in chemical, petroleum, and marine industries.

YXF

B offers easy-maintainable explosion-proof distribution boxes made from engineering plastics like glass fiber reinforced resin or polycarbonate, as well as aluminum alloy options. These boxes are suitable for flammable gas environments (Zone 1 and 2) and flammable dust environments (Zone 21 and 22). Plastic enclosures are cost-effective, lightweight, and resistant to acids, salt spray, ammonia, and chloride ions, making them ideal for harsh industrial conditions.

Applications

These distribution boxes are widely used in petrochemical plants, oil platforms, chemical and pharmaceutical industries, coal and mining operations, shipbuilding, and textile factories. They provide dustproof, waterproof, and explosion-proof protection, ensuring safe electrical distribution in hazardous locations.

Considerations for Selection

Material: Metal (aluminum, stainless steel) vs. plastic (polycarbonate, glass fiber reinforced resin)Explosion-proof rating: Ex d (flameproof), Ex e (increased safety)Voltage and current capacity: Ensure compatibility with your electrical systemCertifications: IEC, ATEX, IECEx, GB3836, ISO9001Environmental resistance: Corrosion, dust, water, and chemical exposure These manufacturers provide customizable solutions to meet specific industrial requirements, ensuring safety, durability, and compliance with international standards.
