How to calculate the loss ratio of optical fiber cables

Overview

Fiber optic loss calculation formula: Total link loss (LL) = Cable attenuation + Connector attenuation + Fusion attenuation [Note: If there are other components (such as attenuators), their attenuation values can be added]. To ensure a fiber optic link operates correctly, you need to calculate its loss, power budget, and power margin. The calculation methods are as follows. Use this Optical Fiber Attenuation Calculator to calculate total signal power loss through fiber optic cables using fiber. Corning's link loss budget calculator will calculate your total link loss and tell you if your system falls within Corning's recommended guidelines. The calculation formula for fiber optic attenuation is as follows: The Total Link Loss = Cable Attenuation + Connector Loss + Splice Loss Cable Attenuation (dB) = Maximum Cable Attenuation. To be able to judge whether a fiber optic cable plant is good, one does a insertion loss test with a light source and power meter and compares that to an estimate of what is a reasonable loss for that cable plant.
