How to test a fiber optic communication box

Overview

This is your "QuickStart" guide to testing fiber optic cable plants, patchcords and communications equipment with a fiber optic light source and power meter. This Applications Engineering Note (AEN 135) explains and recommends standard measurement methods for characterizing optical fiber system performance. This note also provides background information on system link configurations, test equipment and system component considerations that influence. In this article, you'll learn about the types of fiber optic testers and how they're used. Loss measurement testing, on the other hand, quantifies the loss of signal strength as light travels through the fiber, which is crucial for evaluating the network's. For every fiber optic cable plant, you will need to test for continuity, end-to-end loss and then troubleshoot the problems.
