Key Takeaways

An IP65 distribution box is a dust-tight and water-resistant enclosure designed to protect electrical components in indoor and outdoor environments.

Overview

An IP65 distribution box is an electrical enclosure that provides protection against dust ingress and low-pressure water jets from any direction, making it suitable for both indoor and outdoor applications. The IP65 rating ensures that the box is dustproof and waterproof, which is essential for industrial, construction, and photovoltaic installations.

Material and Construction

These boxes are typically made from robust ABS plastic, stainless steel, or diecast aluminium, offering durability and resistance to environmental factors. Many models include features such as: Lockable lids for securityHinged visors or covers for easy accessDIN rails and back plates for mounting circuit breakers or other electrical devicesPre-drilled knockouts or threaded entries for cable entry, often compatible with M20 glands Sizes and ConfigurationsIP65 distribution boxes come in a wide range of sizes and configurations, typically from 4-way to 54-way units, allowing flexibility for small residential setups or large industrial installations.
