Key Takeaways

Leading fire-resistant cable tray suppliers in Qatar include Altura Industries, SV Composites, Electra Qatar, MSE Qatar, and Doha Cables, offering FRP/GRP and metallic solutions compliant with international fire safety standards.

Key Suppliers and Brands

Altura Industries supplies GRP/FRP cable trays and ladders that are fire-retardant, non-conductive, and corrosion-resistant, suitable for petrochemical, marine, and oil & gas environments. Their products meet standards such as NEMA FG1, BS 476 Part 6, ASTM E-184, ASTM D-635, and IEC 60754-1, ensuring flame propagation control and self-extinguishing properties.

S

V Composites offers a wide range of FRP cable trays, including ladder type, perforated, smooth bottom, trough, and channel-type trays. These trays are UV-stabilized and formulated with flame retardant additives, providing fire resistance, low maintenance, and long service life. They are ideal for instrument, control, and power cables in both indoor and outdoor installations.

Electra Qatar provides heavy-duty cable trays and accessories, including GI, pre-galvanized, and epoxy-coated finishes. Their trays are designed to protect cables from mechanical damage and fire hazards, with options for covered and uncovered trays, bends, reducers, and couplers.

MS

E Qatar supplies a variety of fire-resistant cables and cable management systems, including cable trays, trunking, and conduits. They cater to civil, MEP, and oil & gas sectors, offering solutions that comply with fire safety and electrical standards. Doha Cables is a Qatari manufacturer primarily known for high-voltage and low-voltage cables, but they also provide cable management solutions compatible with fire-resistant installations, supporting large-scale infrastructure projects.

Types of Fire-

Resistant Cable TraysFRP/GRP Ladder Trays: Independent rungs with side rails, lightweight, and fire-retardant.

FR

P Perforated Trays: Rigid bottom with vent holes for heat dissipation and fire safety.

FRP Trough/

Solid Bottom Trays: Fully enclosed for extra protection against fire, dust, and moisture.

Metallic Heavy-

Duty Trays: Galvanized or epoxy-coated steel trays with fire-resistant coatings.

Considerations for Selection

Compliance with fire safety standards (ASTM, IEC, BS, NEMA). Environmental resistance: Corrosion, UV, and chemical exposure. Load capacity and installation type: Ladder, perforated, or solid bottom.

Maintenance and lifespan: FRP trays generally require less maintenance than metallic trays in harsh environments. These suppliers provide locally available, certified fire-resistant cable trays suitable for industrial, commercial, and infrastructure projects in Qatar.
