Zimbabwean telecommunications tower manufacturer

Overview

African Tower Company (a trading name of Tower Connect Trading Pvt Ltd) is a Zimbabwean-owned telecom infrastructure company dedicated to transforming Africa's digital landscape. It is a subsidiary of Econet Wireless Zimbabwe and is listed on the Victoria Falls Stock Exchange (VFEX) under the ticker INFR. It. There are currently no towercos in Zimbabwe, with the three market MNOs Econet, Telecel and NetOne owning all telecom towers in the country between them, with the government having a stake in the latter two. We are proudly rooted in Zimbabwe, delivering impactful and sustainable connectivity solutions that empower communities. The Postal and Telecommunications Regulatory Authority of Zimbabwe (Potraz) quarterly reports confirm the build happened. THERE is a version of the NetOne story that looks like a competitive breakthrough. In 2025, the state-owned operator built 389 new LTE base stations, closing its infrastructure.
